REMARKS.

ELLINGTON ACADEMY, is situated in the pleasant and flourishing Village of Ellington, Chaut. Co. N. Y., a place remarkably well adapted to literary pursuits, both on account of the healthiness of its location, the total absence of pernicious influences, and the morality and intelligence of its citizens. It is 18 miles distant from the New York and Erie Railroad, and accessible in all directions by lines of stages.

The Institution has been in operation only one year, during which time, it has more than fulfilled the expectations of its patrons, and its present flourishing condition, gives abundant promise of future success.

TERMS.
