

pleased the giver of all good to take her to himself ere in ~~vain~~ or sorrow blighted her young and tender heart.

She died Tuesday morning Aug 30 and was buried on Wednesday they then had a sermon preached for them both they buried Sarah before the sermon there were 50 little girls dressed in white with black silk berthe capes and straw hats trimmed in black that marched behind the coffin and then six young ladies dressed in white with black capes and lace veils over their heads and eight young gentlemen dressed in black with a sash of crape on the left arm - It was a mournful looking sight as with sorrowfull hearts and slow step we marched to the graveyard the final resting place of all living.

Emeline and Sarah were sick only ten days they died of Typhoid fever there are a great many more that are very sick but not all the same fever among the number are Henry and Gilman Baldwin
