

If you had only been here this spring, you could have helped either boiled sap, and had warm sugar to eat almost every day.

Your Uncle Edmund has sold Malapies enough, to get his year's stock of sugar; and some more.

It is very pleasant weather now, but rather cool; cold winds as we expect in March our roads are very dry and nice, and have been, for some time. George French has sold his farm, and gone to the City to live. we have some new neighbors by the name of Willians.

They appear to be very nice people. I think they will be very good neighbors. I cant tell when I shall come to Ellington again it will depend upon my health. perhaps your folks will sell out and move away; I dont know where you will go, you must write, and let me know.

I shall want to come and visit you when you get to your new home. I suppose you have heard, about your new cousin;
your Aunt Jims, little boy baby I do not know what they will call his name. We have seven cows this season, we have to skim milk and warm, for four calves every night and morning, it make some work, while, we make butter we shall put away it to the factory, as soon as it opens.
We are all well, and all at work only me, and I am in good business. No more this time Much love to all. yours truly
